

Parmiter's School

Chromebook Loan Agreement

The Chromebook will remain the property of the school. The school is only accountable for school provided and licenced software that is installed before distribution or on request. The individual student has no rights over licences and they cannot be shared in any way. The student is expected to take reasonable care of the Chromebook and any damage may have to be paid for. The Chromebook is marked with the school name and postcode but it will not be insured by the school. It is expected that the Chromebook will be returned to school and failure to do so could result in a charge for replacement.

All Chromebooks will be supplied with a carry case and it is recommended that this is used at all times. It should not be brought into school as it is intended to be used for homework and revision.

The Chromebook has internet filtering in place. The school takes no responsibility for inappropriate use, students will sign a separate agreement to this effect.

A copy of this document and the student agreement is provided on paper with the Chromebook at the point of distribution. The signed agreement will be kept on file with the Deputy Head until the student returns the device on request. A copy of the signed agreement is available by request.
